Makers Gonna Make Summer Retreat

Join us for a makers retreat. Come Friday at 5 p.m. and set up your “maker’s station” for a whole week-end of creativity and sewing. Enjoy the artist/studio atmosphere of the Hungerford where you can create unique handmade gifts for friends, family or yourself. Quilting with Margaret’s working studio (#307) is equipped with cutting and ironing stations. There are also large tables and adjustable office chairs for your comfort. The cost of this retreat includes your patterns, instruction and meals.

Optional Friday Agenda

Friday night is First Friday in the building. Set up your maker’s station, have a snack, then wonder the building to see what other artists and makers are up to. This is your chance to get inspired. Friday night is optional. If you prefer, you can wait till Saturday to set up your makers station.

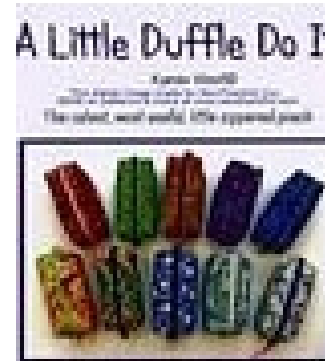

Saturday Agenda

Saturday help yourself to a cup of coffee and a continental breakfast before starting our morning project. Today we will be making two projects: a Barbados Bag and a Little Duffle Do It. Get ready for the summer and travel with these two easy projects. You will learn how to easily add a zipper. Patterns will be included but you can purchase your own fabrics from hundreds of bolts of designer fabrics available at the studio. I will have hardware kits available for purchase to make your creations look truly professional. Enjoy a lunch break with a catered lunch. After lunch we will continue working on these two fun projects.

Sunday Agenda

On Sunday, find coffee and tea available when you arrive along with a continental breakfast. Today we will make two projects to brighten your kitchen.

Make a fun Mom & Me apron. Pattern includes both an adult and child size apron. Make two to match or just one for yourself or your favorite little one. Learn some quilting basics while making an easy strip-pieced runner. Enjoy a lunch break with catered lunch before continuing work on these two kitchen projects.

All projects are easy enough for a beginner and will feature various sewing and quilting techniques.

Your creations will make great birthday, housewarming or graduation gifts. Or use this time to get started on your holiday gift making.
